GREAT NEWS:

Benold Middle School recently was honored by Children At Risk, a Houston based non-profit organization as one of the Top 5 Middle Schools in the Austin area. Since its inception in 1989, Children At Risk, has been speaking out and driving change for children. Their long term vision is to make our community a place where children's need come first, where families thrive, and where ample resources are available to children and their families.

Children At Risk has been conducting an evaluation of high schools in the Greater Houston Area for the past four years and is now expanding this report to include all schools across the state. This is the first time the organization has evaluated schools in the Austin area. This report has served as a guide for parents and educators alike to understand what works in public education highlighting which schools serve as models and which schools need improvement.

“This is a great honor for our school to be selected as one of the Top 5 Middle Schools in the Austin Area. I am proud of all the efforts of our staff, students, and parents alike in achieving this prestigious award. It is a total TEAM effort by everyone to make sure that our students achieve the best education possible.”

Congratulations!!
