Texas Education Agency (TEA) guidance currently mandates that districts offer both on-campus and remote learning options for families. However, the guidance allows for a period of flexibility in the first weeks of school. How do you prefer that GISD begins school?

- Remote learning required for all students, no on-campus (in-person) school option for families to start the school year.
- On-campus (in-person) option for those families that choose it AND remote option available for those families that choose it.
